

2021 RANZCR ASM GRANT

Terms and Conditions

1. Eligibility

The applicant should be a member of an Indigenous medical organisation or association and identify as Aboriginal and/or Torres Straits Islander or Māori. Please ensure you have provided the name of your organisation and your membership number in the above form.

The applicant must also be a junior medical doctor or a current student studying a Doctor of Medicine (MD) at an Australian or New Zealand University. A junior medical doctor is a practicing doctor who has graduated but not started a specialist postgraduate training program. You may be a current intern, postgraduate in Years 1 – 3 who has not entered a specialist category, junior medical officer, or career medical officer.

2. Acknowledgement of RANZCR

Where reasonable, successful grant recipients are required to acknowledge RANZCR, and 2021 ASM Grants sponsors if requested to do so by RANZCR.

3. Promotion of the ASM Grants

RANZCR may share information about the Indigenous ASM Grants initiative. RANZCR and ASM Grants sponsors retain the right to publish information across all channels including but not limited to online and print.

4. Post Event Report

RANZCR welcomes successful Indigenous ASM Grants applicants to complete a one-page summary report describing which sessions they most enjoyed and why.

5. Judging Applications

RANZCR will select grant recipients in its absolute discretion. Grants will only be awarded to applicants that meet the eligibility criterion (Point 1) and submitted a 200-word summary. Please note that the decision of the winning applicants by RANZCR is final. RANZCR retains the right to award any, and all grants including in instances where less than the full number of grants are awarded. No communication will be entered into by RANZCR and the applicants.

6. Awarding the ASM Grant

RANZCR will be responsible for registering the applicants only. All other travel and accommodation booking will be the responsibility of the winning applicants. RANZCR will not be liable for cancellation of travel or accommodation or travel related expenses. Please read our COVID-19 Frequently Asked Questions prior to booking your travel plans.
